

Life has been great with out the telemarketers calling. That's one of the reasons I have an unlisted number (land line). I have a cell phone and do not want telemarketers calling on that number either. When they call and you tell them you are not interested, they don't seem to understand "NO."